Information Required for Homestead Exemption Application

The following information is required for all owners residing on the property who wish to file for Homestead Exemption. One spouse may apply for the other provided they bring the other spouse's information. Homebound persons should contact the Property Appraiser's office to arrange a home visit to file an application. We are at your service and would be happy to assist you.

- Florida Voter Registration information, which MUST reflect the address of the homesteaded property.
- Florida Driver's License information. If you do not hold a valid driver's license, Florida ID card information must be presented.
- Florida Vehicle Registration information if you own or drive a vehicle in Florida (including leased vehicles).
- Social Security Number. If married, even if your spouse is not an owner of the property, you must submit his/her Social Security Number as well. Per Florida Statute 196.011(1)(b), the Property Appraiser's Office may not grant an application for exemptions if the applicant refuses to disclose his/her Social Security number, or that of their spouse.
- Owners who have transferred the interest of their residential property into a trust must have their attorney complete the "Trust Certificate" – which is available under the 'Forms – Exemption Forms' section of our website. The Property Appraiser must be able to determine who has current beneficial interest in the trust to determine who may be eligible to qualify for Homestead Exemption.
- If you are not a U.S. citizen, but have a permanent resident card, you may qualify for Homestead Exemption. You must provide a copy of both the front and back of your permanent residency card.

If you prefer to file online, please visit <https://www.pamartinfl.gov/homestead-exemption/apply-online>.

PENALTIES

The property appraiser has a duty to put a tax lien on your property if you received a homestead exemption during the past 10 years that you were not entitled to receive. The property appraiser will notify you that taxes with penalties and interest are due. You will have 30 days to pay before a lien is recorded. If this was not an error by the property appraiser, you will be subject to a penalty of 50 percent of the unpaid taxes and 15 percent interest each year (see ss. 196.011(10) and 196.161(1)(b), F.S.).

If you improperly receive a homestead exemption as a result of the property appraiser's clerical mistake or omission, you will not be assessed penalties or interest.

For tax years beginning in 2025, if you improperly receive an exemption as a result of the property appraiser's clerical mistake or omission, and you disclose the error to the property appraiser before you receive a notice of intent to record a lien, you will not be charged back taxes, penalties or interest. For special requirements for estates probated or administered outside Florida, see s. 196.161(1), F.S.

The information in this application will be given to the Department of Revenue. Under s. 196.121, F.S., the Department and property appraisers can give this information to any state where the applicant has resided. Social security numbers will remain confidential under s.193.114(5), F.S.

EXEMPTION AND DISCOUNT REQUIREMENTS

Homestead Every person who owns real property in Florida on January 1, makes the property his or her permanent residence or the permanent residence of a legal or natural dependent, and files an application with the county property appraiser's office, may receive a property tax exemption up to $50,000 of the assessed value. The first $25,000 applies to all property taxes, including school district taxes. For the first year of your exemption, the added $25,000 applies to assessed value over $50,000 and only to non-school taxes. If you remain in the home and keep your homestead exemption, the added $25,000 exemption will increase annually on January 1 for inflation by the percentage change in the Consumer Price Index (CPI), if the percentage change is positive. See s. 196.031(1)(b), F.S.

The Consumer Price Index (CPI) is a measure of consumer price changes. The Bureau of Labor Statistics of the United States Department of Labor calculates the CPI statistics using the All Urban Consumers, U.S. City Average, all items 1967=100, or successor reports for the preceding calendar year. The Department has additional information about CPI posted on the website Florida Department of Revenue – Property Tax – Consumer Price Index \(floridarevenue.com\). The Department will provide the CPI data to the county property appraisers to be used on homestead exemption calculations on applicable properties.

Your local property appraiser will determine whether you are eligible. The appraiser may consider information such as the items requested on page 2.

Save our Homes (SOH) Beginning the year after you receive homestead exemption, the assessment on your home cannot increase by more than the lesser of the change in the Consumer Price Index or 3 percent each year, no matter how much the just value increases. If you have moved from one Florida homestead to another within the last three years, you may be eligible to take some of your SOH savings with you. See your property appraiser for more information.

This page does not contain all the requirements that determine your eligibility for an exemption.
Consult your local property appraiser and Chapter 196, Florida Statutes, for details.
